Expanded Core Curriculum for All Ages: Practical Implementation Within a Team Approach

Description:

To be able to access the core curriculum, students with vision impairment need to learn alternative skills and techniques which comprises the Expanded Core Curriculum. The ECC includes 9 additional domains of learning and is an educational requirement for all students with vision impairment. This workshop will expose the learner to implement the ECC through a team approach, while keeping all instruction practical and functional.

Instructor: Robbin Keating Clark serves as the ECC Coordinator at the Utah School for the Deaf and Blind. She also worked as the vision rehabilitation therapist in the Children's Services division at BESB. Robbin is the Executive Camp Director for Camp Abilities Connecticut, a one-week developmental sport camp for children with visual impairments. Professionally, Robbin has worked as a teacher for children who are deafblind and an early intervention therapist for children with vision impairments. Personally, Robbin has been active in the vision impairment community since her youth; working with her mother who has total vision loss. Robin writes a blog for children with vision impairments and their families, www.adifferentkindofvision.blogspot.com. She completed her vision rehabilitation therapist graduate degree at the University of Arkansas, Little Rock.
